Category: Yoga and contemplative learning | 55 video entries

Purpose of this playlist

This playlist focuses on Book III of the Yoga Sutras, which explores the natural abilities of the spiritual self that emerge through deep inner purification and disciplined practice. These capacities arise only after the mind and emotions have been refined through the teachings of the earlier books.

Book III reveals that spiritual powers are not supernatural achievements but inherent qualities of awakened consciousness. As awareness aligns with universal consciousness, perception expands beyond personal limitation, allowing insight, clarity, and understanding to flow naturally.

These teachings emphasize that spiritual abilities unfold through integrity, devotion, and self-conquest. When motives are pure and attention is directed beyond personal gain, the spiritual self resonates with the greater unity of all consciousness. This alignment opens access to deeper knowledge and refined perception.

The sutras also remind us that not all inner phenomena reflect true spiritual development. Psychic distractions and illusions can arise when attention drifts from truth and selflessness. Genuine spiritual powers remain grounded in clarity, humility, and dedication to higher purpose.

These songs are designed for meditation, focused listening, and reflection, supporting steady awareness as spiritual insight deepens.
