Purpose of this playlist

This playlist captures the quiet tension and inner friction created by the Sun’s semi-square aspects. These songs reflect the moments when personal expression feels slightly out of sync with thoughts, desires, or emotions. Each track explores the discomfort that pushes growth, encouraging clarity, self-reflection, and creative adjustment. The energy in these songs supports working through misalignment, refining how you show up in the world, and learning to express your truth with more confidence and understanding.
